This group of financial experts is the next generation in our continued tradition of excellence – demonstrating tenacity, composure, determination and problem-solving under pressure. Successfully completing the CFE is one of the most important milestones in any accountant's professional evolution, and Baker Tilly Canada's successful writers are now one step closer to achieving the CPA designation. This will put them in an even better position to actively influence tomorrow – for their clients, their profession and their community.

Like all our professionals, these graduates are encouraged to follow their own path and Be True to their values and ambitions, alongside our shared commitment to fostering a vibrant and inclusive culture. We look forward to continuing to build great relationships, great conversations and great futures together.

Actively influencing tomorrow

be true

Now, for tomorrow
